Stetson University Welcomes Thetas

Stetson University at DeLand, FL is the most recent stop for the Theta extension team. In February a colony of 29 pledges was established at the 98 year old private liberal arts college. The new Epsilon Zeta chapter was installed the first weekend in May. Full details will be in the autumn Theta Magazine.

Stetson is the oldest private institution of higher education in Florida, founded in 1883 as DeLand Academy and renamed Stetson University in 1889 in honor of John B. Stetson, the well-known hat manufacturer. Stetson University is a church-related school with ties to the Florida Baptist Convention.

About 35 percent of the 1900 students who attend Stetson are fraternity members. Kappa Alpha Theta is the seventh NPC group to establish a chapter there.

The Stetson campus at DeLand (near Daytona Beach) has 34 modern buildings set among oak and palm trees on 100 acres. The Stetson University College of Law, established in 1900 is Florida's oldest law school. It is located on the St. Petersburg campus.

The new chapter is part of Theta's District XVIII which includes the chapters at the University of Florida, Florida State, Rollins College, and the University of Georgia and Emory University.

Grand President Lissa Bradford

Grand President Reveals Exciting Plans

A Home for Kappa Alpha Theta

The folder in the Grand President's files marked "Fraternity Headquarters" reflects the desire of Grand Councils through the years to establish Kappa Alpha Theta in its own headquarters building. In 1955 Evelyn Widman Tunnicliffe (Second Vice-President '54-'58) was appointed chairman of a committee to research sites for a national headquarters facility. The report of this committee states: "... we recommend Indianapolis, Indiana as the most logical location. Since Kappa Alpha Theta was founded in Indiana, we feel it fitting to have our permanent headquarters there. Indianapolis is centrally located, easily accessible by rail and air, and costs are comparable to other sections of the country." It is interesting that although this '54-'56 Grand Council was not able to act on the recommendation of that committee, a similar study was carried out by the '78-'80 Council resulting in Indianapolis again being considered the most desirable location for a headquarters building.

An additional factor leading to the conclusion of this report was College Park. Located on a 350,000 acre plot in the northern suburbs of Indianapolis, College Park is a Planned Unit Development which has a special area set aside for national fraternity and sorority headquarters. Seven national groups already occupy newly constructed facilities in this area, designated as Collegiate Center. With the lease expiring in 1984 on Theta's present office space in Evanston and with there being only one lot remaining in the College Park Collegiate Center, the time had come to make one of the most important decisions in the history of the fraternity.

That decision has now been made. Kappa Alpha Theta has purchased lot 20B on Founders Road in College Park, Indianapolis, IN. The decision and the commitment to construct a headquarters were entered into jointly by Grand Council and the Trustees of the Kappa Alpha Theta Foundation. The funding of this undertaking was, obviously, the major consideration in the decision making process. Just as the Foundation cannot abandon any of its obligations, so the Fraternity cannot afford to cut back on its programs and services. With expert legal assistance, an arrangement has been reached whereby the Foundation will loan funds to the Fraternity for the purchase of the lot and the cost of construction. The mortgage held by the Foundation will be a sound investment and will produce additional revenue. In order to make this loan, the Foundation must increase its assets and will do so by way of a major appeal to the membership. Donations to the Foundation will insure the continued funding of present commitments and will also make possible the headquarters construction.

A Headquarters Steering Committee composed of Foundation Trustees and Grand Council members and chaired by Marjorie Crane Schnacke (Grand Vice-President, Service '76-'80) has already established goals and a time line for the completion of each phase of the project. An architect search committee of Indianapolis Thetas completed its thorough study in time for Grand Council to select the firm of James' Associates at its February meeting. During the spring, Special Gifts Chairman, Virginia Speidel Edwards (Grand President '64-'68), and her committee organized the personal solicitation aspect of the total fund-raising effort. Soon every Theta will have the opportunity to participate in this exciting undertaking by making a personal contribution.

After 111 years Kappa Alpha Theta deserves a home of its own. By maintaining its role of campus leadership and alumnae service, we have confirmed the quality and value of our organization. It is time to look to the future and provide for our Fraternity a residence befitting its position. Although the organizational effort is being directed by elected Fraternity and Foundation officers, the project belongs to every member of Kappa Alpha Theta. It will be your headquarters. The more you are involved in making it become a reality, the more pride you can assume when it is completed. Look forward to regular progress reports in the months ahead and anticipate with me that special day when the black and gold ribbons are cut and Theta moves into its new home.

Gold is where you find it

For this year's class of pledges, the phrase, "joining a house" doesn't necessarily describe the end results of rush. Sixty nine chapters have their own chapter house. But home is where the heart is and all the good things that come with fraternity membership do not come packaged as a house. Thetas whose hearts have found their way to a lodge or a chapter suite know that friendship and sisterhood, leadership opportunity and personal growth are found wherever Thetas call home. Members of the 8 chapters which have lodges and the 20 chapters which meet and enjoy the privileges inherent in Theta membership in a suite or apartment are perhaps more attuned to the basic fraternity concept than those members who relate to "sorority" first as a place to live.

As the fraternity system grows and a new chapter's "home of its own" becomes less financially feasible and/or attainable, the motivation for membership takes on a new dimension. The "roof over the head" rushee who is seeking a nice place to live as her top priority, will increasingly be replaced by the young woman who is seeking the benefits of the fraternity experience to enhance and compliment her formal classroom education.

Chapters located on campuses having deferred rush return from Christmas break to begin selling Theta to rushees who have been around for a semester. For rush in fall, winter or spring, the plan's the same . . . only the seasons make the difference. Getting to know the rushees, the guidance of alumnae recommendations, and helping the prospective member to know chapter members . . . these are the basics of rush carried out against a background of lively entertainment, singing, and yes, some serious talk.

More often than not, deferred rush takes place while school is in session which sometimes means a very short rush period. The second semester rushee is perhaps a little wiser than her fall counterpart. She has had a school term to form some judgments. Any reservations have vanished and she is looking forward to becoming a Greek.

Skit rehearsal for "Old West" party at Albion.

Albion Thetas check over party lists for winter rush.

It's what's inside that counts. Just ask the members of Pi, Albion where every member cherishes the small lodge, and rushees come to know the warmth and security that resides within.

Gamma Upsilon at Miami of Ohio is a strong member of a strong Greek system where a dormitory suite is the Theta "house." Rushees have no trouble finding MacCracken Hall and last fall 40 pledges learned to think of it as Theta's own.

Nu Thetas at Hanover are especially grateful for their chapter house which was rebuilt after a tornado wreaked heavy damage.

House, suite or lodge, KAΘ is selling values and sisterhood, not just a place to live.

Ski lodge party is a big hit at Hanover January rush.

Theta Magazine Now Accepting Ads From Theta Craftswomen

The advertisement shown at left was received camera-ready to run in the summer issue of the Kappa Alpha Theta Magazine. This is the third ad to be run in the Magazine since the new policy went into effect last autumn.

Individual Theta artisans and alumnae chapters and clubs are encouraged to advertise their products in this manner. The Magazine as an advertising medium reaches a select readership of nearly 75,000.

This new policy is not a money-making undertaking. It is strictly a service to our members.

Rates range from $27 a column inch to $125 per quarter page. Half page and full page space is available at proportionally higher rates. The one inch ads cannot be used unless there are enough of them to cover a half page. Additional information may be obtained from the editor, Mrs. John C. Gallup, 3502 N.E. 42, Seattle, WA 98105. Deadline for autumn issue is July 1.

Theta's Historical Emphasis on Scholarship Unchanged

By Judy Alexander, Director of Scholarship

The fraternity system, since its appearance at the College of William and Mary in 1776 has professed an emphasis on scholarship. In 1870, the four women who founded Kappa Alpha Theta stated in the original constitution of the organization that one of the objectives of the fraternity would be "to afford an opportunity for improvement in composition and debate and elocution." They further stated that "No one can become a member unless she has been a student of the university or college at least 6 months and during that time . . . received a high standing in her studies."

For 111 years, Kappa Alpha Theta has continued to place a high priority on scholarship and intellectual development. Today, chapter scholarship is evaluated by use of a formula that rates each chapter according to the percent it ranks above or below the all sorority average on that particular campus. The fraternity finds this method of rating chapters to be fair because it allows the comparison of each chapter with similar groups on the same campus, thus eliminating such possible variables as differing campus admission standards and grading philosophies.

The fraternity can take pride in the fact that more than eighty percent of the chapters on the Index rank above the all sorority average. In addition, one-third of ALL chapters are on the Honor Roll—chapters with an average of "B" or better.

But 1981 is not a year for back-patting or complacency. 1981 is a time for renewed emphasis on scholarship.

Rampant inflation is forcing the cost of a college education to frightening heights and placing a significant financial burden on many families. More than ever before, it is an obligation of the fraternity to assure that each member is given the opportunity to achieve to her full academic potential in order to earn an adequate return on her very significant investment in higher education.

No one will deny that important individual growth occurs outside the classroom in social, philanthropic and other activities, but being a student is still the primary reason for being in school.

Kappa Alpha Theta will continue to pursue its historic emphasis on this priority. It will work to assure that an attitude of respect for academics and scholastic endeavor is an integral part of chapter programming so each member will be given both the encouragement and the opportunity to be a successful student.

Southern Methodist Homecoming Queen Cindy Swan is crowned by University President James Brooks.

Southern Methodist Theta Chapter Provides Campus Leadership

Beta Sigma chapter at S.M.U. is proud to have three members holding the three top leadership jobs on campus this past year. They exemplify Theta ideals of leadership, service and dedication.

Cindy Swan, Homecoming Queen at S.M.U. last fall is a senior business major. As Panhellenic President she coordinated a very successful rush. In addition, Cindy is a student body Senator, Business School Caucus Representative, student advisor in the University College, member of student center activity board and Sigma Delta Pi honorary; listed in Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges, and recipient of the 1980 Texas Real Estate Research Center scholarship.

Cindy Hill is serving as president of the Student Foundation, an organization which works with the S.M.U. Development Office, raising money and promoting Southern Methodist. This year the Foundation raised $60,000 for the sustentation drive. Cindy is also vice-president, efficiency in Beta Sigma chapter and a member of Mortar Board.

Marci Kimmel, a junior has proven her leadership as head coordinator of the Program Council, which is the largest organization on campus. Through Program Council, guest speakers, movie stars, politicians and other programs are brought to S.M.U. Marci arranged for Theta Marlo Thomas to appear as a guest. Beta Sigma's Service Committee under Marci Kimmel raised $1500 for the Dallas Society for Crippled Children through a Theta all school picnic.

Her Work is Promoting Art

The Sacramento Valley Alumnae Chapter is proud of its "resident" artist. Mary Kay Slane Exstrom, Beta Gamma, Colorado State is the artist in their midst, who has had her work displayed in numerous art shows, and is active in promoting appreciation of art by children, as well as by adults in Sacramento.

Mary Kay's works hang in libraries, banks, and commercial offices. Her paintings have been selected to be in juried shows, and she has won ribbons in all colors of the flag.

Mary Kay characterizes her painting as "the Impressionist style with an emphasis on the bright, vibrant colors of the subject instead of its actual form." She uses acrylic paints and prefers to paint landscapes and still life. A variety of materials gives her free style of painting texture and mood.

The Theta artist is active in organizations which promote the appreciation of art. As Chairman of Special Events for Northern California Arts, Inc., she arranges art tours throughout California.

Mary Kay began her career in art after her children were grown. The beneficiaries of her talent include not only those who have viewed and enjoyed her work, but also the residents of Sacramento whose lives have been enriched by her unselfish volunteer service in the world of art.

Psi chapter at the University of Wisconsin has captured the Panhellenic Scholarship Trophy, an award given each year to the sorority with the highest cumulative grade point. Psi's winning grade point was 3.12. Wisconsin Thetas worked diligently to earn this scholastic honor and they declare, "We don't intend to give the trophy back easily."

Orlando Theta Reaches New Pinnacle of Volunteering

Adapted from an article by Laura Kavesh, Sentinel Star

The six key machine and the lightning-fast fingers of the woman who operates it 60 hours a week combine to turn out thousands of pages containing millions of tiny bumps and nubs that translate into Braille.

Mary Brown Corson, Beta Rho, Duke of Orlando, FL, has been transcribing Braille since 1973, "printing" everything from textbooks to Internal Revenue Service forms for the country's sightless.

Recently she has transformed the 754-page textbook, "Exploring our Nation's History" into 1,817 Braille pages. Last June she was presented with the "Everything is Coming Up Roses Award for Education" given by the Dade Savings and Loan Association to women of accomplishment in the Orlando area. At the time of her award she was working on an anthology of literature.

When Mary Croson isn't making her little six-key machine produce its embossed symbols, the printed word for the blind, she is proofreading Braille texts or creating Braille Christmas cards. She has also placed Braille labels in the elevator of her high-rise where her own apartment has become a place of almost non-stop production.

Her next project is to transcribe a technical tome about microeconomics and it will be embellished with the usual bars and graphs which Mary Croson will create with a dressmaker's tracing wheel. She has also created a Braille American flag; each of the 50 stars is made from three sequins glued together.

Mary Croson says she is never bored. "There's nothing these six little keys can't do." She compares a finished work of flawless Braille to a painting.

Chancellor's Wife Receives Panhellenic Award

The Athena Award is presented annually by the Newport Harbor, CA, Panhellenic to a fraternity woman of outstanding service and achievement in the community. This year the gold medallion went to Jean Hamilton Aldrich, Beta Delta, Arizona. Her many community involvements range from the arts to girls' clubs, Planned Parenthood, Childrens' Hospital, and moderator of the Southern California Conference United Church of Christ.

Jean's husband is Dr. Daniel Aldrich, chancellor of the University of California, Irvine. They have three children and seven grandchildren.

Jean is also a dedicated runner and won the 1500 meter run for women over 50 at the Senior Olympics in Berlin in 1976.

Jane White's music brings inspiration to prisoners.

At Kentucky Bike-a-Thon Chairman Julie Riney (top) and Chapter President Cindy Good celebrate successful Bike-a-Thon held with Delta Tau Delta, which raised $12,350 for American Cancer Society.

Jane White Makes Music for Prisoners

Jane Douglass White, Alpha Omicron, Oklahoma, frequents prisons. The fact is that she is "in and out of prison." Jane White is a member of Prison Fellowship and in that ministry she visits state and federal penitentiaries one day a week.

By profession, Jane White is a musician, composer arranger, entertainer and producer of musical shows which have won acclaim in New York. She has been assistant producer of network TV show, "Name That Tune." Now she is using her talent in a musical ministry and was the musical part of Charles Colson's Prison Fellowship Seminar team. Her work is "building bridges between believers inside and outside prison walls." Organized as community care groups, they visit inmates, befriend them and their families, counsel, conduct Bible studies and aid ex-offenders upon release in finding jobs and a church. Prison reform and crime reduction are two of the long range goals for Prison Fellowship.

Six years ago Jane White first sang in a prison, joined with a friend to form the musical team of Janet and Jane. They started in the Ohio area and went on to other prisons in nationwide tours. She sang with and for the inmates, playing the piano and using much of her own inspirational music. She searched out talented prisoners and invited them to sing or play. In 1980 Jane visited at least one prison a month mostly for five-day programs. Her commitment to the Prison Fellowship ministry will soon be channeled in a new direction as she has accepted responsibility for teaching seminars, mainly in women's prisons, on a part-time basis.

An associate of Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, Jane White is in charge of music for three of Peale's Schools of Practical Christianity. She and her husband Gail White live in Midland Park, NJ.

GUIDE TO THE NATIONAL WILDLIFE REFUGES

by Laura and William Riley, Anchor Press/Doubleday, NY 1979.

This book is basically for people who like nature. The quality of the Guide can be summed up by its nomination for a Pulitzer Prize.

The subject matter of this wildlife guide has wide appeal because of its timeliness, as well as the depth and quality of the reporting. One doesn't have to be a hardcore environmentalist to have concern for the wildlife of this country and to wonder what steps if any are being taken to preserve nature's creatures which are part of the American heritage. The authors, Laura Etz Riley, Alpha Mu, Missouri and her husband William have the greatest credentials for their undertaking . . . the compiling of a guide to America's nearly 400 national wildlife refuges. The Guide which came out in paperback this spring, following the success of the hardback edition, contains 181 maps to locate each refuge, and 27 color photographs of animals and birds for which key refuges are famous. But the book contains more than maps and pictures; each geographical area of the country is covered in the reportorial style of professional journalists, deeply involved in environmental preservation causes.

Laura Riley is a nature writer and photographer whose articles and photographs on birds and wildlife have appeared in numerous national publications. Her photographs are presently being exhibited nationally by the Eastman Kodak Company. William Riley, a business executive and former journalist has been active in environmental pursuits and is a past president of the Southbranch Watershed Association, an environmentalist group in New Jersey.

Of interest is the fact that many refuges were brought back from places that had been all but destroyed by fire, drainage, erosion. Acquired when almost worthless, they are lessons in how land can be brought back to beauty and productivity. Increasingly in recent years refuges are located close to metropolitan areas, offering refuge not only to wild creatures but also their human neighbors who can escape urban clamor and encounter wild creatures in their natural homes.

The national wildlife refuges of the United States are unmatched by those of any other country in the geographic span they cover, the diversity of habitat they provide, and the variety and numbers of wild creatures they harbor. Through this Guide the reader can discover the refuge nearest home and learn by reading about the hundreds of others. One need not go to Africa to enjoy wildlife walks, picture tours or auto tours through the natural habitats of wild creatures. This book about American refuges locates them for you, describes the wild inhabitants, tells you how to get there and what to expect.

William and Laura Riley co-authors of book on American wildlife.

The Guide to the National Wildlife Refuges quotes an Indian of the Puget Sound area in citing one single reason for refuges: to provide a different kind of place from that described over a century ago. Chief Sealh said, "There is no quiet place in the white man's cities, no place to hear the leaves of spring or the rustle of insect's wings. The white man does not seem to notice the air he breathes. . . . If all the beasts were gone, men would die from great loneliness of spirit, for whatever happens to the beasts also happens to man. All things are connected."

WESLEY PAUL: Marathon Runner by Julianna A. Fogel. Photographs by Mary S. Watkins, Alpha Mu, Missouri. J. P. Lippincott, New York, 1979.

"My name is Wesley Paul. When I was three, my dad started jogging to lose weight, and he took me along. I've been running ever since . . ." begins this intriguing photo-essay of a young marathon champion. The direct first person narrative and handsome photographs show Wesley, holder of some 20 U.S. and world running records, as he prepares for the challenge of his record-breaking performance in the New York City Marathon at age nine. From his daily warm-up routine to the moment he triumphantly crosses the finish line, Wesley Paul's story will fascinate and inspire young runners and readers.

Wesley, who has been highlighted in such publications as Sports Illustrated, Running Times, and The Runner, visited Taiwan during the summer of 1978 to launch a government-sponsored physical fitness program. The final line from the Chinese American boy from Kansas in his own understated account is, "All you have to do is walk out the door and start."
